GUIDE FOR USERS WITH MEMBER ROLE

BROWSE ANNOUNCEMENTS

The screenshot shows the homepage of the "Lost My Pet" website. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for CONTACT, VIEW, POST, LOGIN, and REGISTER. A dropdown menu is open under the VIEW button, showing options for "Missing Pets" and "Found Pets". The main banner features a photo of a dog looking out from a house-shaped kennel, with the text "The City of Hillwood lost missing and found pet database". Below the banner, a call-to-action box says "Click on View and choose to browse missing or found pet announcements". The section titled "Who we are?" contains a paragraph about the service's purpose and history.

The screenshot shows the "View Missing Pets" page. At the top, there are filters for "Select...", "Sort by Date...", and a dropdown menu set to "Oxford". Below these are buttons for "Filter" and "Reset". A large black callout box with white text instructs users: "To refine announcement list select pet type, sort date and/or location and click on the Filter button". The main area displays a grid of pet announcements. Each announcement includes a thumbnail, the pet's name, and the date it was posted. The first announcement is for a dog named Chino, the second for a cat named Hobo, the third for a cat named Savannah, and the fourth for a cat named Dallas. The "Dallas" announcement has a placeholder image of a cat silhouette.

GENERATE REPORTS

INSTRUCTION OF HOW TO USE JSONDOC

All below documentation of the REST API HTTP methods is generated using the JSONDoc library.
To browse the documentation using the JSONDoc module simply we need to:

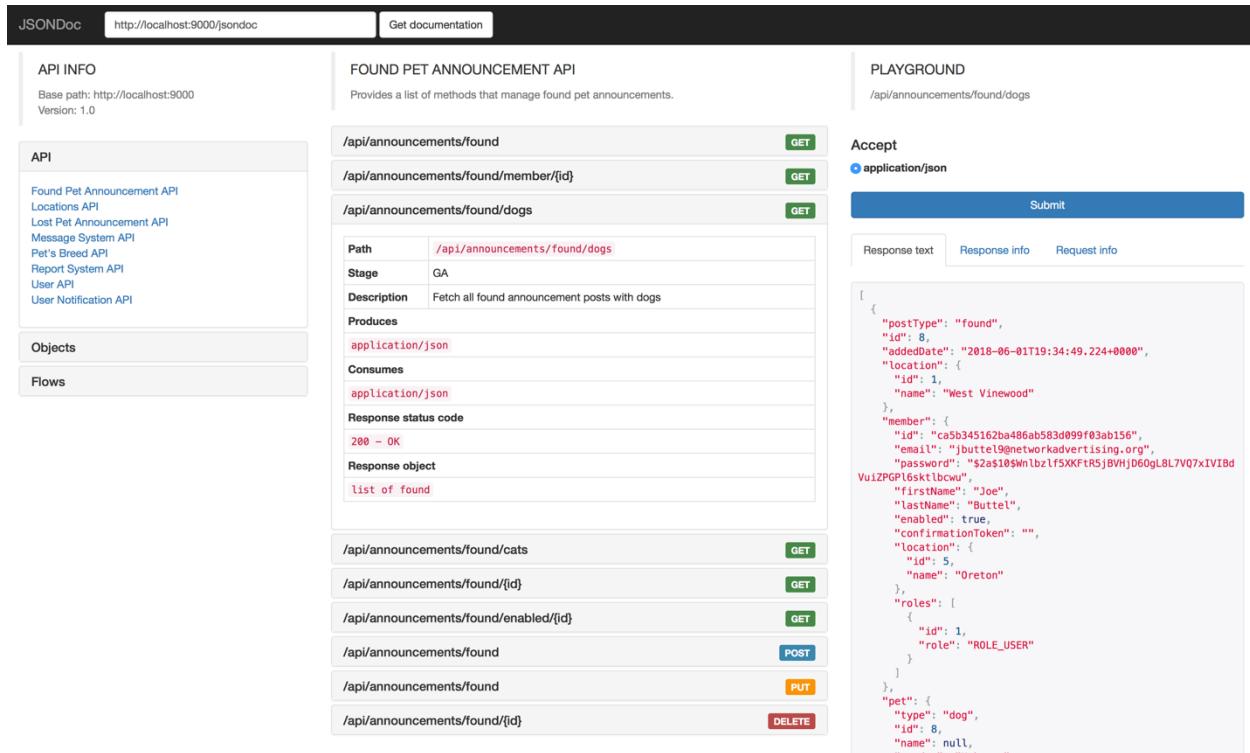

1. Run REST API service
2. Go to <http://localhost:9000/jsondoc-ui.html#>

3. Insert the JSONDoc URL: <http://localhost:9000/jsondoc>, like in the picture:

4. Click Get documentation.
5. Click on one of the API controllers documentation.

The screenshot shows the JSONDoc user interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with sections for API INFO (Base path: http://localhost:9000, Version: 1.0), API (listing various services like Found Pet Announcement API, Locations API, Lost Pet Announcement API, etc.), Objects, and Flows. The main content area is titled "FOUND PET ANNOUNCEMENT API" and describes it as a service for managing found pet announcements. It lists several endpoints under "/api/announcements": /api/announcements/found (GET), /api/announcements/found/member/{id} (GET), /api/announcements/found/dogs (GET), /api/announcements/found/cats (GET), /api/announcements/found/{id} (GET), /api/announcements/found/enabled/{id} (GET), /api/announcements/found (POST), /api/announcements/found (PUT), and /api/announcements/found/{id} (DELETE). To the right, there's a "PLAYGROUND" section with an "Accept" dropdown set to "application/json" and a "Submit" button. Below it is a "Response text" panel containing a JSON response for the /api/announcements/found endpoint, which includes fields like id, addedDate, location, member, and pet.
